Year 11 Thoughts on H&SC

- Coursework in year 10 counts. Take it seriously from the start.
- There is more coursework than you think.
- It teaches life skills and what's going on in the real world, (managing time, planning, being organised etc)
- There is intervention and help after school if you need it.
- Group size is smaller than other subjects.
- There is no childcare, it is just about health & social care settings.
- For the interview pick someone you can talk to.
- Plan for the presentation, you think it is going to be worse than it actually is.
- It's really interesting, fun and different.
